

Tools to Grow a Healthy, Profitable Practice

Tools to Grow a Healthy, Profitable Practice is designed for all members of the practice team to demonstrate that each team member is an extremely valuable component. This is especially important when delivering exceptional patient care and client service is at stake. Each member of the practice team has a very different role and perspective. Finding ways to build your teams strengths will increase efficiency and productivity. These two items are crucial ingredients in determining practice profitability.

Our goal is to strengthen your team through developing the relationships and understanding you have in your hospital. Regardless of your position on your team, this course will explain the importance of different roles in the veterinary hospital and give you tools to start bridging any gaps. By leveraging the support team and providing motivation to grow and through efficient scheduling, your practice will learn ways to lead your team to success.

The National Commission on Veterinary Economic Issues (NCVEI) was founded to help insure the economic future of veterinary medicine. It is almost impossible to offer good quality patient care unless the practice is financially successful.

After learning about how to easily navigate the NCVEI, the student will learn about and be exposed to these highly beneficial tools, again reinforcing the importance of the first modules throughout the selected tools. The students will see firsthand how these tools can directly benefit their practice. It has been proven that practices that invest in their team and track their financial progress are much more profitable and successful than those that do not.

VetMedTeam members may enroll in this course at any time and have immediate access upon enrollment. Students proceed through the course at a personal pace and, once all the completion requirements are met, will be able to access the completion certificate.
